

Connecting with the “Looking for Ministry” Kids

Description

Looking for ministry kids are not only growing in their faith daily, they are looking for opportunities to minister in everyday situations. These students are our leaders.

Goal with the Looking for Ministry Kid

Our goal with growing kids are to build relationships with them, help them take next steps with God, and train and develop them for leadership and service.

How do you help these kids take their next step(s)?

It's not about them...

As we spend time helping these students grow into leaders, it is important for them to understand that our mission is helping others find and follow God. These students have a greater opportunity than we do, they can connect with students we can't. They can spend time with students who will never come in our doors. They have the opportunity to minister to more students than we can even imagine because they are students.

Student Leadership Team

Our Student Leadership Process is now about inviting students to explore what it means to be a leader and how to develop leadership qualities. After time going through this, we then hand off responsibility and leadership decisions to these leaders. They now have invested “skin in the game” for RSC and are growing as they are helping others find and follow him.

This team has been a beta in High School, and now we are exploring what this will look in middle school.
